HERBERGER THEATER CENTER ANNOUNCES
LUNCH TIME THEATER'S *WE NEED TO TALK

PHOENIX – Explore the world of disability with a series of several shorts plays in We Need to Talk presented by Lunch Time Theater, April 3-5 and 10-12, 2012 on The Kax Stage. Produced by Improbable Theatre Company

In a combination of sometimes funny and sometimes serious, these short plays take a look at some of the things nobody likes to talk about, from the intimate to the absurd. The Improbable Theatre Company is based in Phoenix and dedicated to the personal, social and political voices of people with disabilities. Their mission is to break down barriers of ignorance and heighten their visibility beyond disability.

Show begins at 12:10pm on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Bring lunch or pre-order lunch when you purchase your tickets. Lunch provided by Put A Fork In It Catering. Tickets are $6.00 and available online, at the door (if available) or call 602-254-7399 x104. For more information, visit our website at www.herbergertheater.org.

The Herberger Theater Center is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to support and foster the growth of the performing arts in Phoenix as the premier performance venue, arts incubator and advocate.
